

How to use the Surf web-browser on M-Series recorders

The M-Series recorders from exacqVision come with a web browser called Surf. Surf is a very basic web browser that is well suited to the capabilities of the M-Series recorder. Surf doesn't have any window controls (address bar, back-button, etc.), so common browser tasks are accomplished with shortcut keys.

Surf can be launched using the Terminal with the following command:

```
surf "hostname/IP-Address"
```

For example:

```
surf exacq.com
```

Refer to the following table for Surf usage details.
